

Abstract

The project was developed to design and simulate an 8-bit analog to digital converter using the Design Manager software. It is done using the successive approximation analog to digital conversion method. It is designed for voltage range from 0V to 10V with a resolution of 0.078V.